Key European markets — H2 2025 analysis · Confidential

INTRODUCTION

Northwind Traders' European customer base contributed $284,910 (43.1% of total FY 2025 revenue) across 11 countries and 46 customer accounts. This report examines the four priority European markets — Germany, France, the United Kingdom, and the Nordic region — and provides strategic recommendations for 2026.

GERMANY — PRIMARY EUROPEAN MARKET

Metric	Value
FY 2025 revenue	$118,560
Active customers	11
Avg order value	$2,140
Top customer	QUICK-Stop (Cunewalde)
Top category	Meat/Poultry (31% of DE revenue)
YoY growth	+22%

Germany is Northwind Traders' largest European market and third globally, generating $118,560 in FY 2025 revenue from 11 active accounts. The two largest German accounts — QUICK-Stop (Cunewalde) and ERNST HANDEL (Graz, Austria, classified under Germany region management) — together represented 41% of German market revenue. German buyers favour high-value, multi-line orders; the German market average order value of $2,140 is 32% above the company-wide average of $1,619.

Margaret Peacock (Sales Representative, Northwind Traders) manages the QUICK-Stop and ERNST HANDEL accounts and drove the 22% YoY growth in the German market through H2 2025. Three additional German foodservice prospects (Berlin, Munich, Hamburg) have been identified; a trade visit is planned for March 2026.

FRANCE — GROWTH MARKET

Metric	Value
FY 2025 revenue	$44,920
Active customers	11
Avg order value	$817
Top category	Beverages (38% of FR revenue)
New accounts Q4	1 (La corne d'abondance, Paris)
YoY growth	+9%

France generated $44,920 in FY 2025 revenue from 11 active accounts. The French market is characterised by a smaller-format retail and restaurant buyer mix, resulting in an average order value of $817 — 49% below the company average. Premium Beverages (primarily Côte de Blaye at $263.50/unit) drive disproportionate revenue relative to order count.

The Condiments category in France faces growing competition from domestic private-label alternatives, which reduced Northwind Traders' French Condiments revenue by approximately 12% in 2025. La corne d'abondance (Paris), onboarded Q4 2025, is a premium delicatessen chain with a specific interest in Confections and Dairy product lines.

UNITED KINGDOM — STABLE MATURE MARKET

Metric	Value
FY 2025 revenue	$31,820 (est.)
Active customers	7
Avg order value	$909
Top category	Beverages
Key supplier base	Exotic Liquids, Specialty Biscuits Ltd
YoY growth	+4% (est.)

Northwind Traders' UK business comprises seven accounts, including B's Beverages (Faversham, Kent) and Eastern Connection (London). The UK market is stable but growth is limited relative to Continental Europe. UK buyers show a preference for domestically produced product lines, which supports strong performance for Exotic Liquids (London) and Specialty Biscuits Ltd (Manchester) sourced products.

Steven Buchanan (Sales Manager, UK territory) and Anne Dodsworth (Sales Representative) are in late-stage qualification with two large independent UK specialty food retail chains. If converted, these accounts could add an estimated $18,000–$24,000 in annual revenue from 2026.

NORDIC REGION — STRATEGIC GROWTH TARGET

Northwind Traders had one active Nordic account in FY 2025: Vaffeljernet (Aarhus, Denmark), onboarded in Q4 2025 with initial revenue of $1,820. The Nordic specialty food import market is growing, with premium Seafood and Confections recording particularly strong consumer demand. Northwind Traders management has designated the Nordic region a strategic growth target for 2026, with a goal of acquiring three additional accounts in Denmark, Sweden, and Finland. Lyngbysild (Lyngby, Denmark) — an existing Northwind Traders Seafood supplier — has offered buyer introductions that should be formalised as part of the 2026 Nordic activation plan.
